The Bottom Line: A May 2013 survey to measure the college’s involvement in outcomes assessment showed significant gains over the previous survey in December 2011. Listed below are the areas where we’ve made the greatest improvement.

Key Indicators

Instruction: Significantly more faculty reported participating in all aspects of SLO assessment than in the previous survey. Most significant increases:

- Course SLO Assessment: from 59% to 81%
- Shared Results with Department: from 58% to 74%
- Participated in Department Discussions of Assessment Results: from 60% to 75%

Student Services: Student Services professionals greatly increased their involvement with SLO assessment.

- Participated in Departmental SLO Assessment: from 39% to 71%
- Participated in Department Discussions of Assessment Results: from 43% to 68%

Administration: More Administration staff reported participating in AUO assessment discussions. In addition, department members helped to write and assess AUOs, which were not in use during the original survey.

- Helped to Write Departmental AUOs: 35%
- Helped to Assess Departmental AUOs: 24%
Future Forecast: We are going in the right direction AND there is room for improvement. The primary need mentioned in the survey is for training in assessment processes, particularly for classified and confidential staff and adjunct faculty. The Assessment Review Committee will be addressing those needs. Stay tuned!
