Casting agent to headline workshop

Hollywood casting director Judy Bouley will teach a workshop on successful auditioning from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sept. 24 at the Cabrillo Crocker Theater Building as part of Cabrillo Theatre Arts' annual High School Workshops.

The fifth annual one-day workshop for high school students, titled Stage Door, draws more than 100 students each year.

Bouley, a 30-year Santa Cruz resident, has worked more than a quarter century as a casting director, beginning locally on "The Lost Boys" and more recently "Larry Crowne," "Polar Express," "Road To Perdition," and "Love and Other Drugs."

Bouley will share tips for developing strong audition skills, including tips for readings for the camera, resume writing and how to choose the best headshot.

The cost is $35 per student and a parent's signature is required. Teachers are welcome to participate free if they attend with their students.

The deadline to register is Sept. 17. Call 566-0169 or send an email to saalbert@cabrillo.edu for information.
