‘MISS REPRESENTATION’

San Francisco’s former first lady-turned-filmmaker Jennifer Siebel Newsom takes U.S. media to task for its failure to represent women in positions of power, thereby aiding and abetting a serious gender imbalance in most sectors of society. Brainy commentators like Rachel Maddow, Nancy Pelosi and Condoleezza Rice show up in this 2011 Sundance Festival hit, now making the rounds in high schools around the country. Screening followed by a panel discussion with film critic Lisa Jensen, Community TV chief Mary Anne Thyken and Cabrillo instructor Ekua Omosupe. Monday, April 30, at 6pm at Cabrillo Crocker Theatre, 6500 Soquel Dr., Aptos. Free. Doors open at 5:30pm.
