Advocates to honor Roe v. Wade

Abortion rights mark 40th anniversary of landmark decision

By SHARON MCCORD

SANTA CRUZ — The 40th anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court’s landmark decision to legalize abortion, Roe v. Wade, will be honored on Friday with a brunch at United Methodist Church, 251 California St.

The event begins at 11 a.m. Local keynote speaker, Dr. Marilu Menken, will be the keynote speaker. The event is free and open to the public.

The Reproductive Rights Network of Santa Cruz County, a coalition of nearly 50 local organizations, will observe the anniversary with a brunch at United Methodist Church, 251 California St.

IF YOU GO

CELEBRATORY BRUNCH

WHERE: The Reproductive Rights Network of Santa Cruz County will observe the anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court’s Roe v. Wade decision.

WHEN: Friday, Jan. 15, at 11 a.m.
WHERE: United Methodist Church, 251 California St.
PRICE: The event is free and open to the public. A donation is requested.

Bookstore takeover

Cabrillo students, classified employees react to college’s deal with Barnes and Noble

By KIMBERLY WHITE

The initial transition will begin during spring break and will be fully implemented by the start of the fall semester, according to Michael Roberson, the college’s director of purchasing, contracts and risk management.

Under the five-year partnership with B&N College, Cabrillo will receive a steady revenue stream, and will save students money, she said Thursday, “I can see that as beneficial.”

“Cabrillo will receive a steady revenue stream, and costs are brought down for students,” she said Thursday. “I can see that as beneficial.”

The debate begins with a simple question that has never been answered: What are assault weapons? The answer is whatever your state or federal law says it is. One side calls them “weapons of war” that have no place in America’s schools. The other side says the laws governing the manufacture and sale of those weapons are too vague to stop an attacker from using them.

The County Office of Education board has joined a statewide effort to write a resolution, mostly symbolic in nature, in support of keeping gun violence at schools and improving mental health services for students.

By SHARON MCCORD

SANTA CRUZ — County education leaders Thursday weighed into the high-stakes topic of protecting students from violent threats on campus and found the concept of armed officers at schools would be widely acceptable.

“Any time we can see that as beneficial, it would be welcomed, in the same one pass,” said Jack Diles, a board member from Santa Cruz City Schools.

Trustee Ronda Newbold passed around draft resolutions on the subject the day before. Their titles: “Proposal to Import City’s Resolution,” and “Proposal to Import City’s Resolution.”

This topic greatly concerns me,” Nichols said.

Columnist DIES

PAULINE FRIEDMAN PHILLIPS | COLUMNIST DIES

JANUARY 12, 2013

The debate begins with a simple question that has never been answered: What are assault weapons? The answer is whatever your state or federal law says it is.

One side calls them “weapons of war” that have no place in America’s schools. The other side says the laws governing the manufacture and sale of those weapons are too vague to stop an attacker from using them.

The County Office of Education board has joined a statewide effort to write a resolution, mostly symbolic in nature, in support of keeping gun violence at schools and improving mental health services for students.

By SHARON MCCORD

SANTA CRUZ — County education leaders Thursday weighed into the high-stakes topic of protecting students from violent threats on campus and found the concept of armed officers at schools would be widely acceptable.

“This topic greatly concerns me,” Nichols said.

Columnist DEAR ABBY ADVICE COLUMNIST DIES

IF YOU GO

CELEBRATORY BRUNCH

WHERE: The Reproductive Rights Network of Santa Cruz County will observe the anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court’s Roe v. Wade decision.

WHEN: Friday, Jan. 15, at 11 a.m.
WHERE: United Methodist Church, 251 California St.
PRICE: The event is free and open to the public. A donation is requested.

Bookstore takeover

Cabrillo students, classified employees react to college’s deal with Barnes and Noble

By KIMBERLY WHITE

The initial transition will begin during spring break and will be fully implemented by the start of the fall semester, according to Michael Roberson, the college’s director of purchasing, contracts and risk management.

Under the five-year partnership with B&N College, Cabrillo will receive a steady revenue stream, and will save students money, she said Thursday, “I can see that as beneficial.”

“Cabrillo will receive a steady revenue stream, and costs are brought down for students,” she said Thursday. “I can see that as beneficial.”

The debate begins with a simple question that has never been answered: What are assault weapons? The answer is whatever your state or federal law says it is.

One side calls them “weapons of war” that have no place in America’s schools. The other side says the laws governing the manufacture and sale of those weapons are too vague to stop an attacker from using them.

The County Office of Education board has joined a statewide effort to write a resolution, mostly symbolic in nature, in support of keeping gun violence at schools and improving mental health services for students.

By SHARON MCCORD

SANTA CRUZ — County education leaders Thursday weighed into the high-stakes topic of protecting students from violent threats on campus and found the concept of armed officers at schools would be widely acceptable.

“This topic greatly concerns me,” Nichols said.

Columnist DEAR ABBY ADVICE COLUMNIST DIES

IF YOU GO

CELEBRATORY BRUNCH

WHERE: The Reproductive Rights Network of Santa Cruz County will observe the anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court’s Roe v. Wade decision.

WHEN: Friday, Jan. 15, at 11 a.m.
WHERE: United Methodist Church, 251 California St.
PRICE: The event is free and open to the public. A donation is requested.

Bookstore takeover

Cabrillo students, classified employees react to college’s deal with Barnes and Noble

By KIMBERLY WHITE

The initial transition will begin during spring break and will be fully implemented by the start of the fall semester, according to Michael Roberson, the college’s director of purchasing, contracts and risk management.

Under the five-year partnership with B&N College, Cabrillo will receive a steady revenue stream, and will save students money, she said Thursday, “I can see that as beneficial.”

“Cabrillo will receive a steady revenue stream, and costs are brought down for students,” she said Thursday. “I can see that as beneficial.”

The debate begins with a simple question that has never been answered: What are assault weapons? The answer is whatever your state or federal law says it is.

One side calls them “weapons of war” that have no place in America’s schools. The other side says the laws governing the manufacture and sale of those weapons are too vague to stop an attacker from using them.

The County Office of Education board has joined a statewide effort to write a resolution, mostly symbolic in nature, in support of keeping gun violence at schools and improving mental health services for students.
Pauline Phillips had Alzheimer’s when the family announced her daughter started sharing the column in 1956. Mother and daughter, Jeanne Phillips, who now writes the column, said in a statement.

“Dear Abby” advice columnist Pauline Friedman Phillips, known to millions of readers as Abigail Van Buren, the star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame of Fans in Los Angeles in April 2002. Phillips died in Los Angeles at 94.

Dr. Phil and Oprah, has died. William “Bill” Griffiths, an independent police source, confirmed. His death leaves open the question of the identity of the person who killed Jaime Edgardo Galdamez in a Canfield Street apartment in 1956. The family announced that their daughter started sharing the column in 1956. Phillips was born in Sioux City, Iowa, 17 minutes after her identical twin, Eppie. Their mother took care of the home.

Her family decided to let her go peacefully in a Canfield Street apartment in 1956. Phillips was born in Sioux City, Iowa, 17 minutes after her identical twin, Eppie. Their mother took care of the home.

Her family decided to let her go peacefully in a Canfield Street apartment in 1956. Phillips was born in Sioux City, Iowa, 17 minutes after her identical twin, Eppie. Their mother took care of the home.