Cabrillo hosts live stream of TED 2013 conference

Cabrillo College will host a free, live stream broadcast of the entire TED 2013 conference 8:30 a.m.-6:45 p.m. Wednesday at the Crocker Theater, 6500 Soquel Drive.

This year’s conference takes place in Long Beach and is themed “The Young. The Wise. The Undiscovered,” according to a news release from Cabrillo College. TED events started in 1984 and bring together people from the technology, entertainment and design worlds to discuss ideas.

“This is an extraordinary opportunity for the Santa Cruz County community to see a variety of experts in the fields of technology, entertainment, and design give inspiring talks on their cutting-edge work in these fields,” John Graulty, dean of Cabrillo’s Visual, Applied and Performing Arts Department, wrote in the release.

For information, go to http://conferences.ted.com/TED2013/program/guide.php#Wednesday,February27,2013.