Dec. 7 forum on health insurance options

County residents seeking health insurance can find out about options at a forum sponsored by 15 Santa Cruz community organizations 10 a.m. to noon Dec. 7 at the Santa Cruz Police Department Community Room, 155 Center St.

The presentation, free and open to the public, will cover options provided by Covered California, Medi-Cal, enrollment assistance, and a Q&A session with Spanish translation available.

“We know that there are many populations in Santa Cruz County who do not currently have health insurance, or adequate coverage,” said Michelle Williams, executive director of Arts Council Santa Cruz County. “The Arts Council is co-sponsoring this forum to help make this information available to community members from all walks of life.”

Co-sponsors include Cruzo, Democratic Women’s Club of Santa Cruz County, Health Improvement Partnership of Santa Cruz County, KUSP, Monterey Bay Central Labor Council, NextSpace, People’s Democratic Club, Santa Cruz Chamber of Commerce, Santa Cruz Next, Santa Cruz Women’s Health Center, United Way of Santa Cruz County, University Council-American Federation of Teachers, Women’s International League for Peace and Freedom and the Small Business Development Center at Cabrillo College.
