COOL PICKS

This weekend

Tenaya Carr (Oliver), Andrew Ceglio (Fagin) and Nicholas Ceglio (Bill Sykes) star in Cabrillo Stage’s ‘Oliver!’

‘Oliver!’

However much audiences want to cry “More, please!” Cabrillo Stage will be striking the sets of its triumphant production of Lionel Bart’s classical musical “Oliver!” after this weekend’s performances. “Oliver!” puts a big brightly colored bow on Cabrillo Stage’s ambitious 2014 summer season, which began with the playful boy-band spoof “Altar Boyz,” continued with the Stephen Sondheim-rich revue “Putting It Together” and culminated in the beloved stage musical based on the famous novel by Charles Dickens. It’s been a crazy-busy summer for the performers and crew of Cabrillo Stages, but after a few months break, they’ll be back at it in 2015, with the musical satire “Urinetown” opening Jan. 2. It’s just around the corner.

IF YOU GO
The final performances of Cabrillo Stage’s ‘Oliver!’
When: Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m.; Sunday at 2 p.m.
Where: The Crocker Theater on the campus of Cabrillo College
Tickets: $22 to $49
Details: www.cabrillostage.com