1. What is a person (hint: what does person stand for)? (p. 429)
2. How do we determine that it is the same self now as it was then? (p. 430)
3. What makes the claim in #2 above difficult? What doubts are raised? (p. 430)
4. What is the story of the prince and the cobbler? What is its significance? (hint: spirit, man, person, p. 431)
5. What does the same immaterial substance or soul not make? What makes for the same person? (p. 431-432)
6. What is self? (p. 432)
7. How might one object to Locke’s view? (p. 432-433)
8. What is Locke’s answer to the objection in #7? (p. 433)
9. Why, according to Cooney, is Locke’s account of personal identity seriously flawed? (p. 433)